The Eighteenth Annual Elizabeth Stevenson Ives Lecture Series
Saturday, April 5, 2014

Historic Hope Foundation's Elizabeth Stevenson Ives Lectures series is named in memory of Elizabeth Stevenson Ives of Southern Pines, an early and ardent supporter of the restoration at Hope Plantation. This annual series focuses on scholarship in the fields of decorative arts, history, and historic preservation.

Past presenters have included John Bivins, Wendell Garrett, Graham Hood, Susan Stein, and John Michael Vlach, among many others.

This program is made possible through the generous support of donors to the Historic Hope Foundation and by a grant from the Bertie County Arts Council.

Historic Hope Foundation is a non-profit organization dedicated to the preservation of the Hope Plantation site and the cultural and material history of the Roanoke Chowan region
